

Dr. Afshan Malik

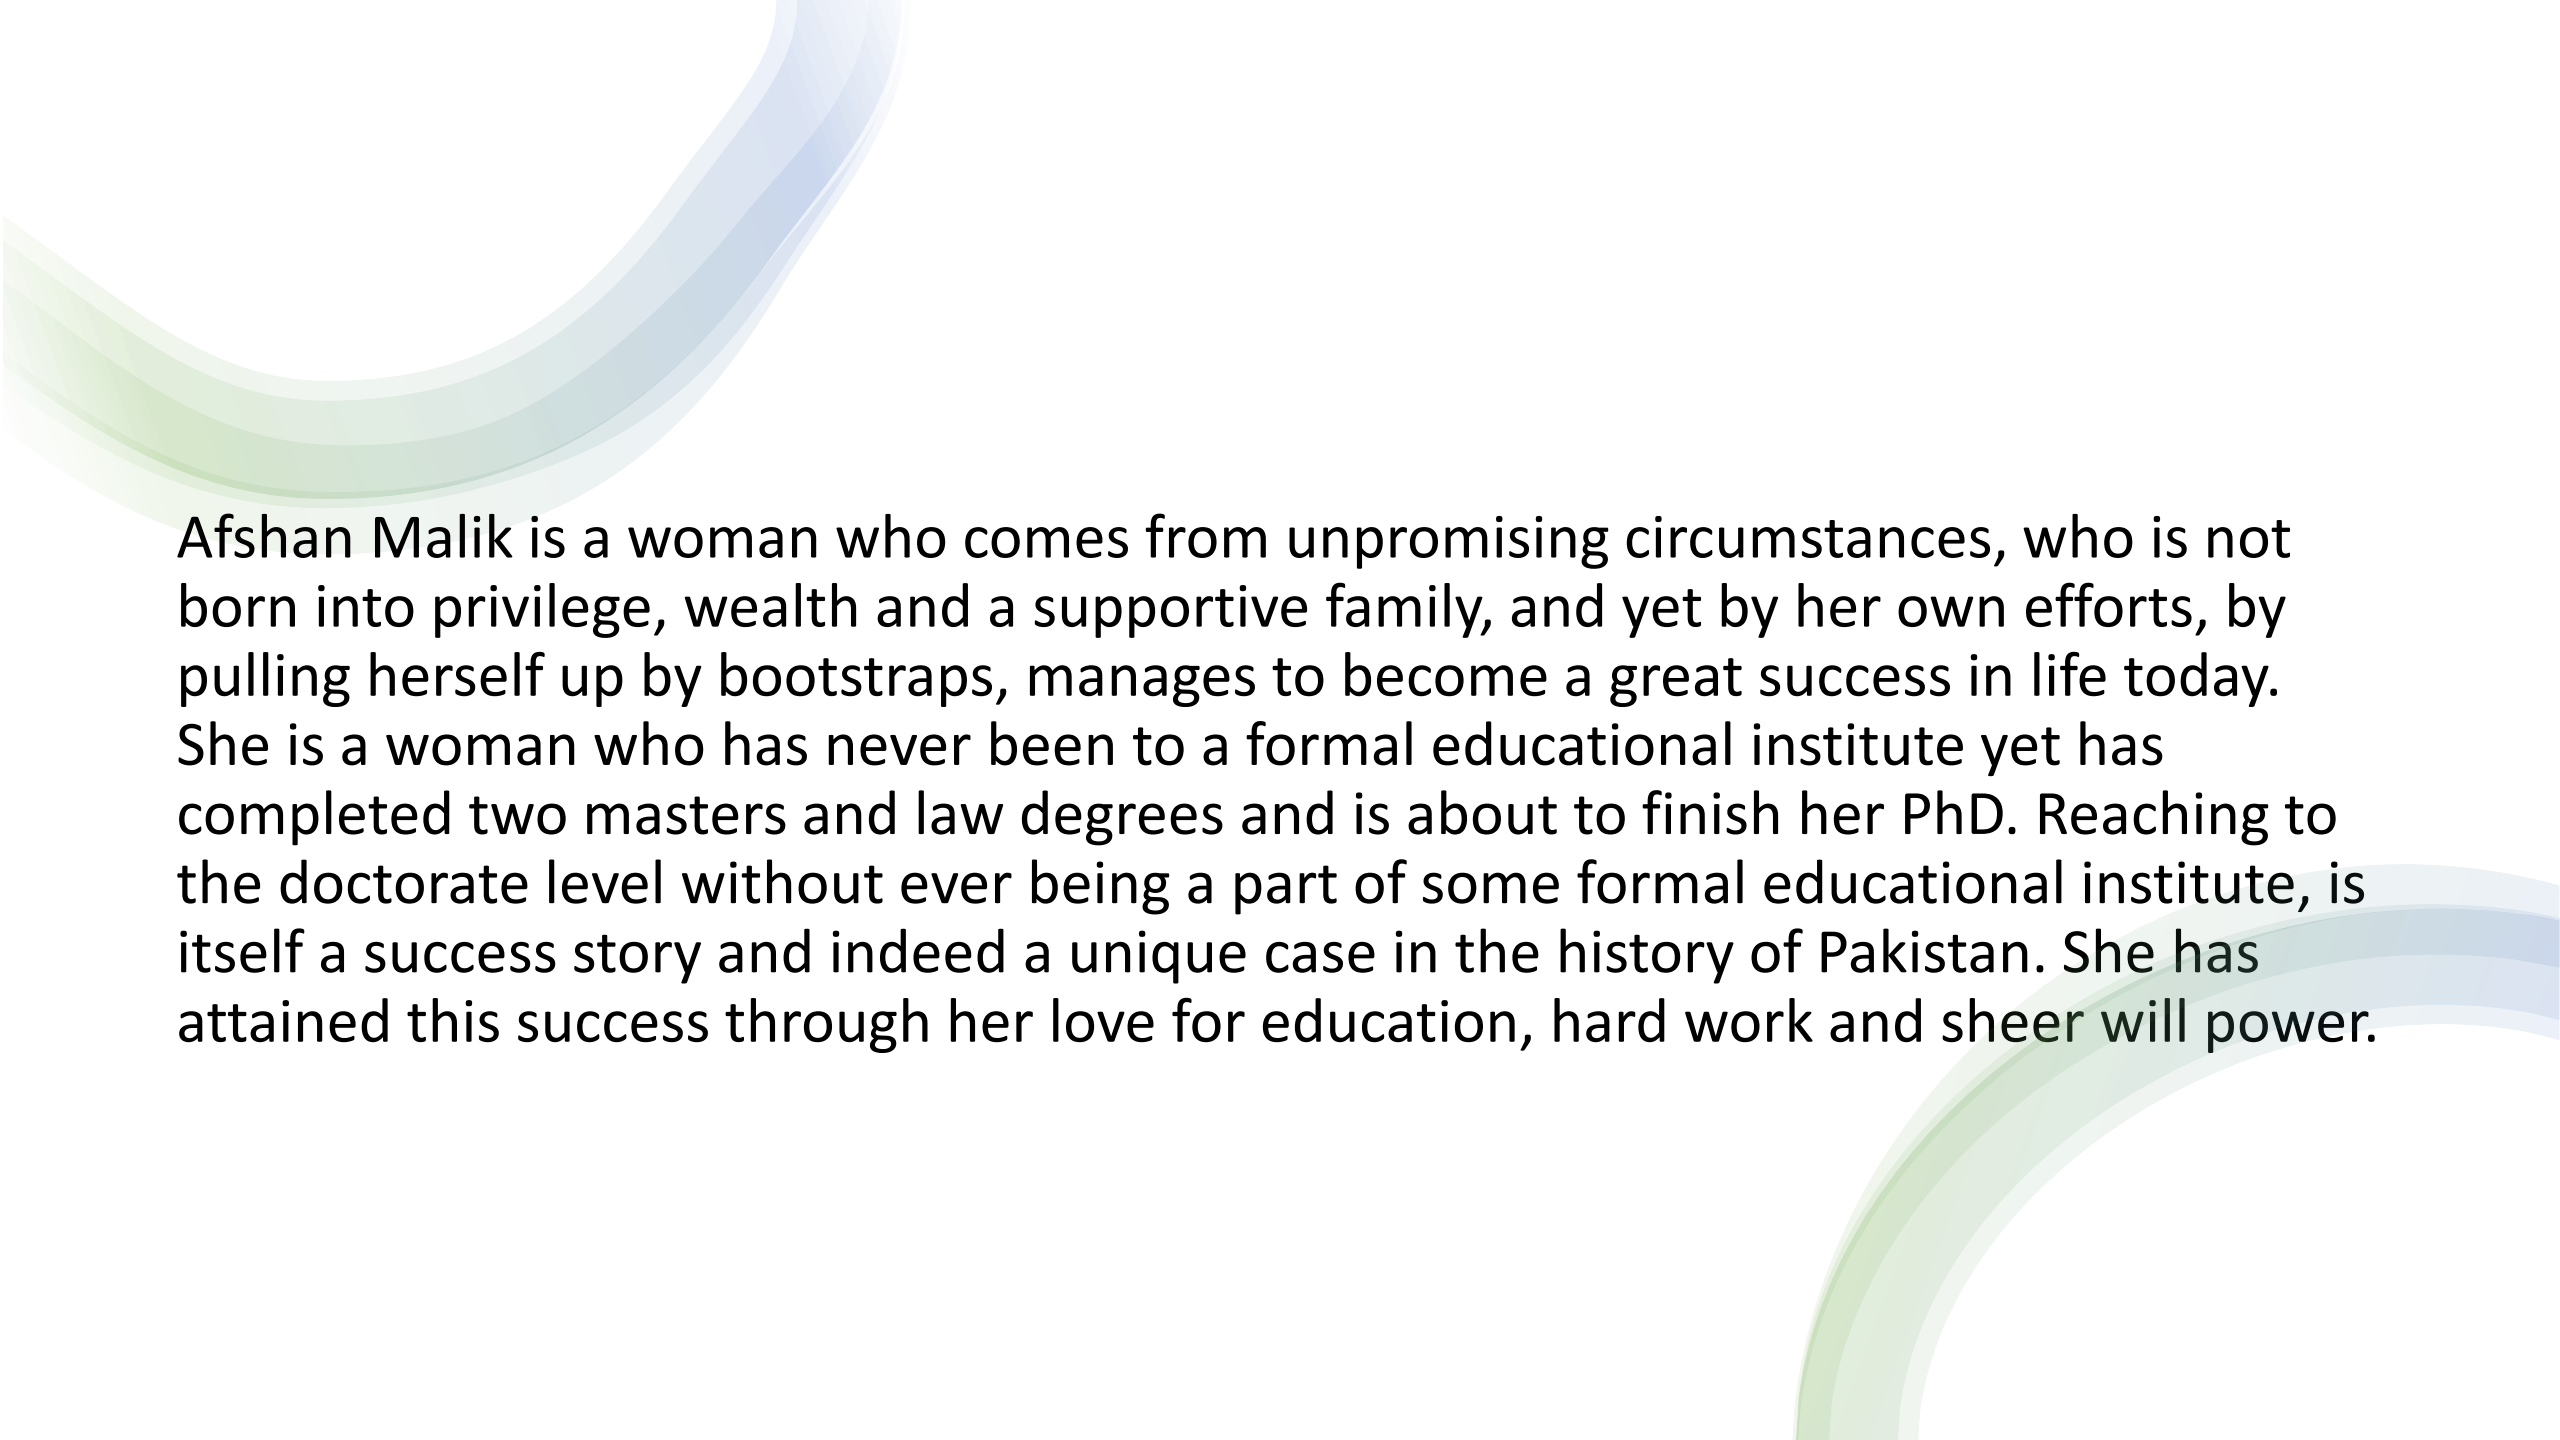

Afshan Malik has many years experience in managing different portfolios. She has a key position in educational development initiatives and managing reputed institutions. She is a poetess and a good writer. She has written number of books on different subjects. She is a columnist and because of her intellectual thoughts she writes different columns on current issues in leading reputed newspapers. She has expressed her analytical point of view on different burning issues.

Afshan Malik is a very competent and renowned poetess, writer, columnist, philanthropist, active social worker and anchor of state owned Pakistan Television. She is well known for conducting high profile interviews of national and international fame personalities. She has conducted hundreds of TV programs. These days she is busy writing a book about political journey of Turkish President Tayyip Erdoğan. Publishing a book on President of Turkey is a unique idea because the first time any foreigner will do this effort to promote President of Turkey through exclusive write up at international forum. Because of her conceptual clarity on educational dynamics, she has written and developed curriculum of Federal text books. She wrote number of her poetry books.

The background features decorative curved lines in shades of green and blue, positioned in the top-left and bottom-right corners. The text is centered in the middle of the page.

Afshan Malik is a woman who comes from unpromising circumstances, who is not born into privilege, wealth and a supportive family, and yet by her own efforts, by pulling herself up by bootstraps, manages to become a great success in life today. She is a woman who has never been to a formal educational institute yet has completed two masters and law degrees and is about to finish her PhD. Reaching to the doctorate level without ever being a part of some formal educational institute, is itself a success story and indeed a unique case in the history of Pakistan. She has attained this success through her love for education, hard work and sheer will power.
